

STOCK MARKET HAS BIG SLUMP

Merger Decision Has Bad Effect Upon Speculative Trades in Wall Street.

SELLING ORDERS

Prices Generally Reach the Lowest Mark in Years, with Northern Securities Leading.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)

New York, April 14.—The full force on the stock market of the decision in favor of the government, handed down in the Northern Securities, was felt here. Under a volume of selling orders prices touched the lowest figure they have seen in a great many months. In the broad street curb market the shares of the Northern Securities company broke more than 8 points, at one time, selling as low as $4, after opening at 103%. The high record for the shares is 118%, which was reached last September.

The break in the Northern Securities helped unsettle the stock market in general and the market declined greatly in many sections with the weakest features the shares of those companies that Wall street construed to be most directly affected by the decision. These included the shares of the anthracite coal roads and those of the various roads in the Gould system.

Selling Is Heavy.

There was very heavy selling of Baltimore & Ohio and Reading shares, the former at the close showing a loss for the day of 4 1/2 points and the latter a loss of 5 1/2. The selling of these stocks was accompanied by much adverse talk about the Pennsylvania railroad's ownership of Baltimore & Ohio and Reading shares in view of the merger decision. Pennsylvania shares declined 3 1/2 points.

In the Gould group, Missouri Pacific lost 3 1/2 points, Texas Pacific 4 points, and Wabash preferred 3 1/2 points, the decline in this group being attributable to a Wall street conclusion that the decision does away with the long-talked-of Gould holding company. Union Pacific shares were heavily sold, the suggestion being made that the merger decision may seriously interfere with the company's holding Southern Pacific shares. The net loss sustained by Union Pacific was 3 1/2 points, and at one time the stock sold at 86 1/2, which is the lowest it has seen since 1901.

Some Declines.

St. Louis & San Francisco shares made a sensational decline of 8 1/2 points on the belief that the carrying through of the Rock Island-Frisco merger would be interfered with. Other notable declines were:

St. Paul, 3 1/2 points; Chicago & Northwestern, 4 1/2 points; Illinois Central, 3 1/2 points; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 8 points, and Amalgamated Copper, 3 1/2 points.

The stock exchange sales of stocks for the day were 1,328,700 shares. It was the second largest day so far this year, the high record for the year having been 1,563,900 shares on Jan. 9.

Some idea of the tremendous decline in prices that has taken place since the crash was reached in the bullish market stock wave on Sept. 9 of last year is afforded by the fact that present market values show a loss of $400,000,000.

On the New York stock exchange 166 different stock issues were dealt in, not to mention bond issues, all of which have shown great declines. The total loss on market value will run probably to a billion.

Form a Joint Organization to Stop the Advances Being Made by the Union Host.

Indianapolis, April 14.—Definite steps have been taken here for the organization of a national union of employers of labor and nonunion men and articles of association were filed incorporating the American Association of Independent Mechanics. The purpose is to protect nonunion men who do not care to affiliate with unions, to encourage industry, economy, thrift and honesty among members, to maintain amicable relations between employers and employees, to assist its individual members in obtaining the highest wages consistent with the general good, to promote all forms of productive energy, to prevent all unjust discriminations against any person, to furnish favorable conditions for apprentices, to provide trade educations for members, and to compel labor unions to observe and respect the laws. Members are required to take the following obligation:

"I do sincerely pledge my word and honor as a man to uphold and abide by the constitution and by-laws of this organization, and to use all honorable means to further and strengthen the principles and cause of this organization, and that if I have any work to be done that can be done by a member of this organization, I will give such member the preference, and I will at no time try by foul and unfair means to wrong a member of this organization, and should I at any time violate this obligation it is to brand me as a man devoid of principle and destitute of honor, so help me God."

Similar articles will be filed in a number of states, and the nonunion unions formed.

In the second year of the civil war he enlisted and was a member of the Seventeenth United States Volunteer Infantry, and acquitted himself well in many important battles. Was Merely the Clever Advertising Scheme of a Large Factory.

For nearly ten minutes this morning the air was rent by a succession of screeches from a hair-raising whistle, coming from the locality of the Milwaukee depot. The demonstration was merely for advertising purposes and was intended to call attention to a train of nearly thirty flat cars, loaded with threshing machinery from a Minnesota firm, bound for St. Louis. On the last of the flat cars was a threshing engine with all steam on. The whistle, which was one of the most hideous of the "night-tangle" type, was kept in almost constant operation, forcing attention to the long display of machinery.

Nineteen members of Eclipse Camp, 1907 came up on the Interurban, sixteen of whom were members of the famous drill team, the other three filling the positions of consul, adviser and escort.

The officers and team of Florence camp gave the adoption ceremonies over into the hands of the visitors the work as given by the boys from Beloit.

At the conclusion of the secret session the visitors from the Line City and the officers of the local camp were entertained at a spread, given by the drill team of Florence camp, Morse and Flynn being the caterers.

Several of the Beloit neighbors left for home on the Interurban at 11:30, while others remained in this city to attend the Unique club dance returning home this morning.

The Eclipse drill team is in command of Captain C. A. Reynolds and the boys are planning to visit this city June 4th, and endeavor to capture some of the prizes offered for the best drilled team. Later on they will visit Indianapolis at the time of the head camp meeting and participate in the drill contests there.

FORMER CONGRESSMAN DIES AT WASHINGTON

Abner Taylor, Who Served in Illinois Legislature, Is Dead at Nation's Capital.

Washington, April 14.—Abner Taylor, formerly a member of Congress from Chicago, died here at the age of 74 years. His death was the result of a complication of diseases with which he had been suffering for several weeks, and although somewhat of a surprise to his intimate friends in this city was not by any means unexpected.

For many years prior to his election to the national Congress Mr. Taylor was active in business in Chicago. He was behind several railroad and other ventures which form an important part of the early history of the city. Besides being a contractor and builder of much reputation, he was also a merchant, and between the three amassed considerable of a fortune. In fact, at one time he was reputed to be very wealthy, but in later years he is said to have lost the greater part of his fortune. He had made his home here for quite a long while, but had not been actively engaged in business.

His political career was much of an afterthought with Congressman Taylor, for he did not enter the arena until late in life. After serving a term in the Illinois legislature he was elected to the national Congress and served two terms in the fifty-first and fifty-second congresses from the first district of Illinois.

FARMERS MEET IN HOLY CITY

Sessions of the International Congress Begin at the Capital of Italy.

GERMANY'S MOVE

German Representatives Will Submit Proposition for Coalition Against United States.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)

Rome, April 14.—The international agricultural congress was inaugurated at the capital yesterday before King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena. About 1,300 delegates were present. The American representatives, Dr. Daniel E. Salmon, chief of the United States bureau of animal industry, and Henry E. Alvord, chief of the dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture, have not yet arrived. The Marquis di Capelli, president of the congress, in his opening speech criticized the "ultra-protectionism of certain American countries," and said he foresaw that their attitude would change with increase of their populations to the average of those of European countries.

Urges Zollverein.

Count von Schwerin Loewitz, a leading member of the reichstag and president of the German agricultural council, will present a proposition to the congress for a European agricultural-zollverein to meet American competition. The count said:

"My proposition does not exactly contemplate a European zollverein, merely an understanding between the European countries to put themselves in a position to safeguard their agricultural interests through a combined system of protective tariffs. I shall submit my proposition to the congress, and it will explain my ideas.

To Level Differences.

"My scheme is based on differences in the natural conditions of production which will have to be leveled by protectionist duties. These differences are considerably less between the European states, especially the central states, than between the European states and the over-sea countries. The unequal competition of the non-European product is growing daily owing to the diminution in the expenses of transportation from the non-European countries, especially America and the British colonies.

Protection Is Needed.

"I understand that the economic superiority of large industrial territories tends toward economic coalition, hence, a coalition of the European countries is absolutely necessary. The efforts in this direction have failed hitherto, because no government wishes to abandon its independence in this field in favor of such a union, and it is also difficult to agree on a common tariff. Protection is needed in varying proportions in the different countries, and a common tariff demands a common administration.

Favors European States.

"It must be recommended that in concluding commercial treaties among the European states, a clause be introduced whereby goods exported from one country to another shall enjoy special low duties, which shall not be applied to the same goods coming from non-European countries."

Count Schwerin Loewitz also intends to submit a proposition with a view to preventing non-European goods landed in one country from being exported therefrom as originating from the country in which they were first landed.

MAYOR VETOES FRANCHISE OF JANESVILLE TRACTION COMPANY

COUNCIL THEN KILLS THE OTHER PETITION.

BOTH GO TO NEW COUNCIL

General Work Done at the Last Regular Meeting of the Year.

When the newly elected common council first meets it will be confronted with the entire interurban franchise question, as far from settlement as though it had not been before the city fathers for the past two months. At the meeting last night Mayor Richardson vetoed the ordinance granting to the Janesville Traction company right to build a line from this city to Madison, and the three to five vote of the aldermen failed to overrule his decision. This action was followed, on the part of the aldermen, by killing the franchise application of the Southern Wisconsin Interurban road, upon which action had never been taken.

What opposition there was on the part of the aldermen to the mayor's action was deflected by his declaration that he would rule seven votes necessary to annul his veto—the number which would be required if Alderman H. S. Gilkey, removed to Minneapolis, were still considered a member of the council. Undesirable litigation would undoubtedly result under such circumstances, and would best be avoided.

Never since the city hall was built has so large an audience been attracted to the council chambers as last evening. Every available chair was occupied and many stood throughout the meeting. There was a slight demonstration, which was immediately silenced by the mayor when his veto was sustained.

Routine Business

Mayor Richardson called the council to order. The minutes of the last three meetings were read and approved. The treasurer's report for the month of March, the usual batch of bills, the municipal court report for March, and the bonds of Peter J. Mount as police and fire commissioner and William Ross as assistant street commissioner, were presented, referred to the respective committees, and later accepted and placed on file.

Capt. Edward Ruger's report on the sewerage plans for the city was then read and accepted. In his report he favored the scheme of sewerage recently outlined by C. V. Kerch, city engineer, rather than that of C. F. Loweth of St. Paul, worked out in 1922.

Seventy-four residents of the Second ward were the signers of a petition which was addressed by Dr. James Mills, requesting his support of the Janesville Traction company's franchise application. The petition opposed the double terminal system, and declared that the Clough company would subserve the people's interests.

The report of the board of education for the month of March was presented, and later referred to the proper committee, reported upon favorably and accepted.

Those bills which were presented at the last regular meeting were approved and ordered paid. Payment of the election clerks and inspectors was also ordered.

City Engineer Kerch's grade of Highland avenue from Oak Hill avenue to Pearl street was ordered accepted.

Galena Street Viaduct

Approval of the Galena street viaduct was voted on motion of Alderman McLean. In bringing up the order, he declared that the Northwestern company had done all that was asked of them and more. Mr. McLean also presented orders for brick crosswalks on Dodge street at the east side of High and the east side of Jackson streets. He also called upon the street commissioner to clean up High street.

An order was also passed for the construction of a culvert at the northwest end of Centor avenue to drain the water that settles there.

A resolution that the salary of the city clerk be raised to $1,200 a year was presented by Alderman Murray and was referred to the judiciary committee.

John Hogan was allowed a rebate of $13.28 on taxes for the year 1902, on motion of Alderman Kothman. He also presented an order which was carried that John Murray be allowed to move a building from lot 163, Smith, Bailey and Stone's addition to lot 8, block 3, Railroad addition.

The bridge south of the Paul farm on Main street was reported in dangerous condition by Alderman Rice and the street commissioner called upon to have it rebuilt.

Franchise Question

Mayor Richardson then brought up the matter for which all had been waiting. He read to the council a paper setting forth at length his reasons for vetoing the ordinance granting a franchise to the Janesville Traction company. His first objection was the same as that on which he refused to sign the franchise granted to the Beloit, Delavan Lake, and Janesville Railway company—that it was not so worded as to prohibit carrying freight. He did not object to carrying certain lines of freight, but he believed the citizens do not desire to see the streets given up to freight trains.

Furthermore, the amendments to the franchise, providing for a different route from that first mapped out, had not been published so as to give the citizens a clear idea of the change which was made.

On Main street, the mayor further urged, between Court and Milwaukee streets the company is given rights to lay a track. The city company has already been given the center of the street, which would necessitate building the track on one side or the other, completely destroying the use of that side of the street.

No provision is made for the use repair of Court street bridge, over which the heavy cars are to be allowed to travel. In addition to this the use of that bridge would close the only bridge over which farmers whose horses are afraid of the cars can come to the city. If necessary the interurban road could be permitted to build a bridge at School or Center street.

Mayor's Decision

Having presented this communication to the council Mayor Richardson further stated that in case of six votes, two-thirds of the resident aldermen, should be registered against his veto, he would rule seven necessary, the number required for the complete council of ten members. There was a legal question as to whether Alderman Gilkey still retained membership in the council. To avoid carrying the matter into the courts he asked that the council allow his veto to stand and that they also cast a defeating vote on the other franchise application, leaving an open field for the new council.

Alderman Rice stated that he had an amendment to present, which would solve the bridge difficulty, and urged the overruling of the veto.

When the clerk called the roll of ayes and noes, the following was the result, and the veto was allowed to stand:

Voting to overrule the veto—Rice, Hemming, Kothman, Murray, and McLean.

Voting to sustain the veto—Judd, Mills, Lowell.

Kill Other Franchise

On motion of Alderman Rice the ordinance granting a franchise to the Southern Wisconsin Interurban railroad company was given its third reading and placed upon its passage. He then moved its passage, and the vote was unanimously adverse.

The council then adjourned.

Present: Aldermen Judd, Mills, Lowell, Rice, Hemming, Kothman, Murray, McLean.

Absent: Aldermen Hutchinson, Gilkey.

PLEASING SHOW AT MYERS GRAND

The Moving Pictures Have Entertained Many in This City.

"If them ain't the finest ever I'll make it good," was the enthusiastic comment of one elderly gentleman who saw the Lyman H. Howe moving pictures at the Myers Grand last evening, and the sentiment brought forth a chorus of approval. It is no exaggeration to say that the exhibition given is a revelation. To those who are accustomed to the squeaky, buzzing, blurred, and eye-straining tortures commonly spoken of as moving pictures, the Howe scenes are a constant cause of wonder. Not only are the views themselves of a high order, but an accompaniment of traps gives the sound of reality and almost deceives the spectator into forgetting that he is looking at rays of light thrown on a curtain.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM LIGHTNING

Johnnie Ford, of Porter, Was Knocked Down, But Was Uninjured.

Johnnie Ford, a young man in the town of Porter, had a little experience with lightning during the electric storm on Saturday. He was plowing with four horses and when the storm came up took shelter in a neighboring tobacco shed. While there the lightning struck the shed, silencing some boards and ran down a post with such force that he and the horses were knocked to the ground. He however recovered from the shock first and got the horses disengaged from each other before they were unharmed.

EXCELLENT GYM DRILL WAS GIVEN

Ladies of Mrs. Day's Classes in Physical Culture Demonstrated Work.

The open gymnastic exhibition given by the class of Mrs. Day at Central hall last evening was well attended, and deserved the warm enthusiasm which was accorded it.

The entertainment or exhibition was a demonstration of what physical culture work is; how it is done, and the beneficial results arising therefrom. There were about forty young ladies who took part in the exercises and their strong and graceful bodies clearly demonstrated the many benefits that result from work of this kind. Mrs. Day has several classes ranging according to their age and experience, but all were joined in one class last evening.

In Gym Suits

The ladies were all attired in the regulation gymnasium suits of blue, sailor waists, bloomers, black stockings and tennis slippers. These suits give perfect freedom to the movements of all parts of the body and are most adaptable for this kind of work. They looked very pretty in these uniforms and the uniformity with which they went through their drills gave great credit to the instruction of Mrs. Day.

Seated at Ends

The main floor of the large Central hall was left clear for the use of the scholars, the spectators having seats at the ends and at the sides of the room. Most of the drills were gone through without the direction of any leader and consisted of the many forms of gymnastic exercises which develop the muscles of all parts of the body. One of the prettiest of which was the dumb bell drill in which about 25 young ladies went through the many forms of that exercise with great union and accuracy. The pole drill by the children, the ring drill and in fact all of them were pleasing and instructive. They were all well executed and Mrs. Day is to be complimented upon her success with the students, and they are entitled to much credit for their skill in carrying out her instructions.

For a Gymnasium

The object of this entertainment and the purpose for which the money taken in at the door will be used is in the forming of a fund to build a women's gymnasium, similar in idea to the physical culture department of the Y. M. C. A. Mrs. Day has had this in mind for some time and is working with the hope that in the end there will be a building devoted to that use.

The Program

THE SUGAR BEET SEEDS ARE HERE

FULLY TWELVE HUNDRED ACRES IN ROCK COUNTY.

IMPORTED FROM GERMANY

Resembles the Seed of the Ordinary Beet in Size and Shape.

From 1000 to 1200 acres of good Rock county soil will be planted to sugar beets this season and a thorough trial given them in order to determine whether or not they can be successfully grown here.

A consignment of 6,900 pounds of sugar beet seed for the use of our farmers has been received direct from Germany and is at the store of Walter Helms for distribution. It is put up in four sizes of sacks respectively 15, 30, 45 and 100 pounds. The 15-pound size will sow one acre, the 30-pound size two acres and the 45-pound size three acres. The 100-pound sacks contain extra seed for use in sowing an unusually large acreage.

Five acres is calculated to be about the average limit allowed any one farmer, although in some cases seven and even ten acres have been allotted here in the county for this season's trial. From two to three acres, however, is the usual amount of land desired.

All or nearly all of the sugar beet seed used in this country is grown in Europe, being imported from either Germany or France. In appearance it closely resembles ordinary beet seed, being of about the same size and shape.

A beet must not test less than 20 per cent. sugar in order to be used for seed. The general average test for sugar production should be from 16 to 17 per cent. The irrigated lands of the west are invaluable for sugar beet growing because of the important fact that there they get the benefit of both moisture and sunshine—two very essential elements in the creation of the necessary percentage of sugar to make the growing of the crop profitable.

It is expected that Rock county soil will prove to be the right thing for the production of the money-making vegetable and if the tests to be made by our farmers this summer substantiate this theory it will mean material advancement along many lines.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Says: "There is Nothing Else Which So Well Restores Vitality To the System"

"Worn and sick in body and mind is the unfortunate condition of a vast army of our American people, young and old in the springtime. The strenuous life of business, professional and literary men and women—their worries, cares and anxieties—all contribute to weaknesses and physical ailments that manifest themselves to an alarming extent as the spring advances. Tired and deathly feelings in the morning, sluggish and poisoned blood, defective digestion, constipation, kidneys and liver unable to perform their functions—all tend to make life a heavy burden. Men and women should commence this very day to exercise the God-given quality of common sense and use Paine's Celery Compound, the one and only reliable spring head—a builder. Mr. W. H. Peedman, business manager of the "Globe-Gazette" Mason City, Iowa, says:—

"I feel impelled, by a deep sense of gratitude to express how much I have been benefited by Paine's Celery Compound; it has made me a new person. There is nothing else system."

The Hon. Edward McKenny, of Jefferson City Mo., says: Paine's Celery Compound is the great natural remedy. I can cheerfully recommend it."

Miss Florence Harrington of Madison spent the past week with Miss Lulu Baker in town.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

On and after April first, 1903, no contract will be made for business local. The rate for this class of advertising will be ten cents per line for each and every issue of either Daily or Weekly. The Gazette adopts this policy for two reasons:

First. To improve the news columns of the paper. The first consideration of any newspaper is the reader; and its value to the advertiser depends entirely upon its popularity with the reading public. Business local advertisements, which are the most numerous, are placed before the paper goes to press, and news is sacrificed to meet the demands of this class of business. Second. The Daily Gazette is rapidly extending its circulation throughout the county, giving the Janesville merchant an opportunity to talk to the farmer as well as the city customer, six days in the week. This means faster machinery, and increased expense in producing paper as well as increased value for advertising purposes. The Gazette has also adopted what is known as the space rate for display advertising, and prices have been placed within the reach of all advertisers. The paper has long enjoyed a liberal patronage from home merchants, and it is in position today to furnish better service than any time in its history.

THE PEOPLE GOVERN

The Wall Street Journal, in speaking of the recent decision in the "Merger" says: "A decision in favor of the Northern Securities would have paved the way for further agitation of government ownership. It would have been a step towards socialism. Therefore, the decision, while its temporary effect may be unfavorable, is taking a long look ahead most beneficial to the country, and Wall street will ultimately take that view of the case, whatever may be its judgment now."

The decision is a magnificent vindication of the action of President Roosevelt in directing Attorney-General Knox to begin this suit on the part of the government. The president has been savagely criticised for that action, and it has cost him the support of powerful interests, but the outcome completely justifies his conduct. His critics are silenced. He is shown to have simply performed his sworn duty, regardless of personal consequences. It would be wise now if the president, and congress would unite in the enactment of some law to permit the railroads to pool their traffic, reserving to the government itself the rate making power.

The Journal, while published in Wall street, the hot-bed of combinations and great financial interests, has long maintained that the Merger if carried out, would be detrimental to the best interests of the people. The Northern Securities company, attempted to combine the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railways, two competing companies, running parallel across the continent.

The governors of several states protested, and Governor Van Sant, of Minnesota, led the fight against the Merger in the courts, and won out. The case has been appealed, and will be carried to the court of last resort, but it is doubtful if the decision will be reversed.

While combinations of capital are frequently helpful in developing great industries, it is well to remember, as the Wall Street Journal suggests, that the people are not very largely interested, and that much ignorance and prejudice exists.

The age is socialistic in tendency, municipal and government ownership command a great deal of attention, and this growing sentiment is due, in great extent, to the effort made on every hand to centralize capital, and combine business interests.

The intelligence and common sense of the nation, will prevent a reign of socialism. If the Northern Securities company had been successful, it would have resulted in disaster. There is ample room and opportunity for the investment of capital in channels that are neither questionable nor dangerous.

IN DESPERATE STRAITS

The state administration is in desperate straits, and the legislative vacation has been improved in the effort to manufacture sentiment among the farmers, favorable to a railway tax commission.

The following letter, prepared by Chairman Gilman, of the Assembly committee on railroads, was sent out to town boards, with a set of resolutions to be endorsed at meetings on election day, and a request to circulate petitions favorable to the bill.

"Madison, Wis., April 3, 1903.—My Dear Sir: The people of Wisconsin are paying from 20 to 60 per cent. higher freight rates than shippers in Iowa and other states where they have state control of railroad rates. The people of Wisconsin are entitled to as favorable rates as the shippers of any other state. A bill is pending in the Assembly which will secure this if it is not defeated by the railroad lobby.

"Will you read and offer the enclosed resolutions at the town meeting of your town, on election day at the hour when the largest number of persons are present, and call for an aye and 'no' vote on their adoption? If adopted, please forward to your member of assembly at Madison, with the vote by which adopted incorporated on the resolutions.

"There is also enclosed herewith, a petition, which it is hoped, you will get numerous signed by the voters present at town meeting and then forward to your member.

"Should these papers fail to reach you until after election day you will be unable to make use of the resolutions. You can, however, still circulate the petition for signatures among your neighbors and those interested in the subject, after which please forward it to your member of Assembly, not later than April 11.

Yours truly,

CHARLES W. GILMAN,

"Chairman Assembly Committee on Railroads."

This is about as contemptible a piece of political work as has yet been attempted. It will be remembered that when the railway companies were given a hearing before the assembly, that Burton Hanson, general counsel for the C. M. & St. Paul company present figures from schedules in daily use, which proved that Wisconsin on 98 per cent. of her shipping, was receiving better rates than Iowa, and yet Mr. Gilman has the nerve to claim that the state has been paying from 20 to 60 per cent. higher rates than Iowa.

Mr. Hanson's statements were backed up by 90 per cent of the shippers of the state. Men who pay the freight, and who claim that they are satisfied with the rates.

This effort to stir up prejudice and class distinction, is on a par with the policy of the administration. It should have no influence with the legislature. The shipping public are satisfied with the present conditions. The welfare of the state is of vastly more importance than the whim of a few ambitious politicians, and that is what the opposition amounts to.

THE LEAGUE MEETING

A meeting of the Municipal League is called for this evening, and every member should be present. The question to be discussed and decided is whether the civil suits now pending against certain city officials, shall be settled out of court.

It is understood that the executive committee of the League, as well as the attorneys in the case, favor a settlement, and their reasons for so doing, will be stated at the meeting tonight. There has been more or less reckless talk concerning this matter ever since a settlement was proposed, some people seem impressed with the notion that the mission of the league is to punish offenders.

The League was not organized for any such purpose, and whatever has been done along the line of investigation has simply been incidental to the main object, which was to purify city government and put it on a sound business basis.

The city has suffered from recklessness, carelessness and extravagance much more than from dishonesty. It is easy to make charges and counter charges against men in public life, whatever may be their position, and men who are innocent of intentional wrong, frequently suffer in consequence.

The city government has drifted along for many years, and much of the business has been transacted in the same old ruts. Abuses that seem glaring in the light of discussion and publicity, have long been tolerated without complaint.

Public sentiment from being dormant, has become aroused and is accurate for any thing that has the appearance of a misdemeanor. Men who have always been credited as good citizens, are under a cloud, and solely because they were so unfortunate as to be in official life.

While it speaks well for the future of the city that public sentiment has become stirred up, it is well to remember that talk is liable to be in-temperate.

The Gazette is not advised as to the terms of the settlement proposed but if they are reasonable, the paper does not hesitate to say that they should be accepted. The city is too small, to profitably engage in a war of extermination.

The outlook for the future was never more promising. The citizens have just elected a council, which it is safe to say will represent public interests. It is a good time to get together, and work for the common good. Justice should be tempered with a spirit of magnanimity and this can be done without sacrificing principles.

The effort to tarnish the reputation of Senator Kreutzer, of Wausau, on the part of the governor's Milwaukee organ, was a complete failure. Senator Kreutzer carried his county by 500 majority, and the governor carried it by only 80. The people up in that neck of the woods possess horse sense. They had confidence in Senator Kreutzer when they elected him, and they still have confidence in him.

The moon got the start of the Almanac man Saturday night, and had an eclipse on its own account. It was at the full, with half the luminary covered for an hour between seven and eight o'clock. It is easy to predict an event of this kind after it occurs.

H. Witt, a Milwaukee grocer, gladdened the hearts of three hundred children by a donation of 1000 colored Easter eggs last Sunday morning. Mr. Witt ought to be a good candidate for alderman in his ward.

The judgment of Wisconsin shippers, on the railroad rate commission, is worth more than the prejudice of the chief executive, and his supporters.

There was nothing the matter with Wisconsin, until the reform cyclone struck the state. It will survive the shock.

Let the railroad commission go until times get dull. This is a good year to make hay.

The senate primary bill is all that the people want this year.

Another boost from Harlan, would have boosted Harrison out.

The legislature will now get busy.

What Osteopathy Has Done.

By Madame Charlotte Escude, of the Clinic Department of Still College of Rheumatic Gout.

Case No. 1. Mr. R. M. F. had had three attacks came five weeks ago, and was more severe than the preceding ones. Finding no relief in drugs he decided after several days of excruciating pain, to try osteopathy. Having been sent for, I found the gentleman suffering intensely, the right foot being much swollen and inflamed. It was almost twice the normal size, was wrapped in woolen cloth and elevated on a pillow, the patient being unable to stand on it. After the first treatment the swelling and inflammation was much reduced. The next day patient was able to wear his shoes. The second treatment removed all swelling and inflammation and he was able to go down town to attend to business. Three treatments cured the acute attack and there has been no return of the trouble up to date.

SOCIAL SEASON HAS NOW BEGUN

THE UNIQUE CLUB DANCE LAST NIGHT, A PLEASANT AFFAIR.

CHARMING DECORATIONS USED

Program Was Most Excellent, and Many Strangers Were Present.

The post-Lenten season opened with one of the prettiest dancing parties of the winter, the members of the Unique club entertaining their friends at Assembly hall in a most delightful manner, with the finest of music and the decorations of the hall a work of art.

The boys of the club told themselves some time ago that when they gave their Easter party that it would be the best yet and their desire was well fulfilled. They have already established themselves among the citizens of Janesville by their many successful entertainments as one of the most popular club of the city and their party last evening was a most fitting conclusion to their season of social pleasures.

Beautifully Decorated

Assembly hall has worn many gay dressings as a fitting setting for the happy crowds which have gathered within its sheltering walls, but few, if any, have exceeded the beauty of last evening's decorations. Long streamers of woven evergreen hung in festoons from the chandeliers diverging from the central group of lights to those placed in the corners and around the walls, forming a green canopy over the heads of the dancers. Along the walls were many mirrors draped with the flowers of the season reflecting the bright faces and pretty dresses of the gay crowd as they whirled by. The music was hidden in a great bank of ferns reaching from the floor nearly to the ceiling and filled with green globed electric lights which set off the whole in a most beautiful manner. Many colored electric lights were also distributed among the other decorations which blended the whole in a charming manner. The decorations were arranged by the Main Street Green house and they did themselves proud in the work.

Fine Music

Smith's well-known orchestra furnished their usual excellent music and the merry dancers could find no fault with perfect time and lovely pieces which sent them whirling around the room. There was little time for rest for one dance was scarcely over before another had them in its charms. Most of the dances were waltzes and two steps with a few square dances for those who love the good old-fashioned way.

Large Crowd

There were fully 250 couple present which filled the floor to its utmost capacity, but the frequent bumping of the couples was taken good naturedly and all went merrily on. There were fully 50 people from the neighboring cities, Beloit sending the largest delegation, while the other cities contributed their share.

Committee

Those who had the affair in charge were:

Arrangement committee—Alfred Jerg, Frank George, Fred Amerpole, Dan Skelly and Charles Kneff.

The floor committee were, Ernest Clemons, Alfred Jerg, Charles Young, Harry Schmidley, William Bailey and Charles Strickler.

Danced Late

The party lasted until one o'clock when the tired but happy guests wended their way homeward vying with each other in compliments to those who had made their evening's pleasure such a great success.

CHINA SHOWER FOR MISS SMITH

The following were the guests of the evening: Mrs. Will Jackson, Mrs. George Fleury, Miss Louise Shearer, Miss Violet Winans, Miss Agnes Shumway, Miss Farnsworth, Miss Katherine Smith, Miss Elizabeth Palmer, Mrs. A. L. McIntosh, Miss Harriet Bostwick and Mrs. H. A. Ford.

ATHLETICS ARE AT A STANDSTILL

Bad Weather Keeps Many of the Boys from Outdoor Practice.

High school athletics are at a standstill. Partly due to the unpropitious weather, and partly to the tardiness of the boys who are most interested in the success of that department of the work in bringing the matter to a focus, no action has yet been taken to determine whether or not the school will play baseball this season. Track work has not yet begun for much the same reasons, although the question is not so much as to whether or not such work will be taken up, as to what members of the school are qualified.

ENGINEER KILLED AT POST OF DUTY

HERMAN KNOWLES LOST HIS LIFE AT SALEM.

WELL KNOWN IN JANEVILLE

His Brother Lives in This City—The Unfortunate Man Was Taking McLean's Place for the Run.

Engineer Herman Knowles was killed at Salem yesterday afternoon while in discharge of his duty. Full particulars regarding the accident as yet have not been received, but it is thought that Mr. Knowles was on the pilot of his engine while a "fly switch" was being made and was thrown off under the wheels of the car, both legs being cut off.

Mr. Knowles was unmarried and was about 26 years of age and was employed as an extra engineer by the Chicago and North-Western Railway company. He resided at Harvard.

In Place of McLean

At the time of his death he was running on the Rockford and Kenosha mixed train in place of Engineer Fred McLean of this city.

Known Here

Charles Knowles, a brother of the dead man, resides at 103 Linn street, and is himself an engineer in the employ of the North-Western company. Upon receiving news of his brother's death he left at once for Salem and is expected to arrive in the city with the remains at 7:50 this evening.

The dead man was well known in railway circles in this city and was here as the guest of his brother only about a week ago. He was an industrious and reliable young man and his untimely and tragic death is sincerely mourned by all who knew him.

METHODISTS ARE IN SESSION NOW

Janesville District of The Methodist Ministers Hold Annual Meetings Here.

Success has attended the sessions of the Janesville district of the Ministerial association of the Methodist Episcopal church. The first meeting was held yesterday afternoon, and was followed by an evening service. The discussions have all been profitable and well worth hearing. About twenty-five ministers have been present.

This morning's sessions opened shortly after nine o'clock. Another meeting was held this afternoon. With but a few slight alterations the program has been adhered to as it was first printed.

This evening's address is to be one of the most important of the series, and the attendance of the general public is especially urged. The Rev. Morris L. Eversz of Lake Mills, who is counted one of the most successful of the younger preachers of the M. E. church in southern Wisconsin, is to deliver the principal address.

George Buggs

The pallbearers at the funeral of the late George Buggs, which was held from St. Paul's Lutheran church yesterday afternoon at two o'clock were Wallace Otto, Harry Koerner, John Barcan, Fred Schaller, Carl Minshow and Carl Luck.

ROBBERS FOILED IN THE ATTEMPT

TRIED TO ROB FRIEDMAN WAREHOUSE LAST NIGHT.

BROKE GLASS WITH BRICK

Thieves Fail to Open the Desk, Which Shows Marks of Hard Usage.

An attempt was made at some time last night to rob the Friedman warehouse. Entrance was gained by means of a brick which was hurled through the window with such force that it left its mark on the opposite wall. Efforts to open the roll-top desk proved ineffective, and even if successful would have been valueless as the desk was empty as warehouse desks usually are.

Work Discovered

It was shortly before seven this morning when the effort to secure entrance to the office was discovered by Foreman Jones, who immediately notified Cap. Campbell. Marks on the desk showed that a coal pick had been employed in an effort to wedge it open. Nothing was missing from the room. Notice was immediately sent to Chief Hogan. After looking over the situation the chief decided that he recognized the man behind the brick and an arrest will probably follow soon.

About Ten

One of the neighbors testified to seeing a light in the warehouse office at about ten o'clock last evening. Neither Campbell nor Jones was in the office at that time, and that hour is naturally fixed upon as the time the attempted robbery was committed.

In Justice Court: In Justice Earle's court this morning thirty-one cases were called and all dismissed but one. That of C. R. Wilcox against James McKewan was found for the plaintiff and judgment awarded in the sum of $19.67.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, April 14, 1863.—We have had the satisfaction examining an army chest made for Lieut. Allen, by D. H. Marquise of this city, which is one of the most ingenious and best specimens we have ever seen. It is about two feet long, well proportioned and contains a large number of drawers, all opened by secret springs of which by the way, there are 125 in the chest, many of them working in a combination. Mr. Marquise was employed fifty days, in its construction and whether it is considered as an ingenious piece of mechanism, or a specimen of superior workmanship, it is probably unequalled by any similar article ever made.

LAW DECISIONS OF INTEREST FOR LAYMEN

Recent Court Rulings That Will Interest the Busy Reader Very Much.

Injury to Horses Attacked by Bees—Liability.

In Parsons vs. Mauser, (Iowa), it appeared that the plaintiff who was a peddler of medicines, called at the home of defendant and hitched his team to a post on the highway and a short distance from the gate leading to the house. There were two beehives about 25 feet north of the post in defendant's yard and others several feet further on. The post was put in the highway by the defendant as a hitching post, and was in the course the bees were likely to take to fly to and from the hives, and there was evidence to the fact that they were prone to attack horses when perspiring, and the defendant was advised of this fact. It was held that the question of the defendant's negligence was one for the jury as well as the contributory negligence arising from the fact that the hives were painted white and stood about two feet from the ground, so that they were in clear view of the road. 33 Northwestern Rep. 38.

Street Railway—Injury to Passenger.

In a recent case of La Fond vs. Detroit Citizens Street Railway Co., the Supreme court of Michigan had before it a case of where it appeared that some trespassing boys had hitched a rope to the rear end of a street car for the purpose of having the car haul him and his sled; that the rope was not discovered by the conductor; that the plaintiff, a female passenger, alighted from the car at the intersection of a street, and passing around the car in making her exit from it, her foot caught in the rope and she was seriously injured. It appeared on one occasion that the rope had been cut off, but the conductor of this car was not known to have any knowledge of it. Upon this state of case the court held that no evidence of negligence was exhibited, and that the company was not liable for the injury.

Streets—Obstructions and Nuisance.

An obstruction in the street need not be permanent in order to constitute a nuisance. A platform 64 feet long, 12 feet wide and 5 feet high, erected in a street by a carnival association with liberty to use and maintain the same for a period of twelve consecutive days, and to which large crowds are daily attracted, is in itself a nuisance. It is liable for damages for any injury resulting therefrom. 8 Virginia Law Register, 509.

Servants—Grounds for Discharge.

An act of an employee in charging up regular hotel rates in his expense account, when he, in fact, paid only commercial rates, is sufficient ground for his discharge. Such a reason for a discharge not known to his employer at the time, may nevertheless be relied upon by him, if afterwards discovered. In defense to an action for damages, 80 New York Supplement, (Judge Jenks) 691.

Injunction—Crowing Roosters.

Judge Landis, of the Court of Common Pleas at Lancaster, Pa., has rendered a decision holding that an injunction will not be allowed at the instance of a hotel-keeper to stop the crowing of game cocks in the early morning on adjoining premises, no direct damages being proven.

Municipal Corporations.

A provision in an ordinance that no person shall drive "any horse" faster than an ordinary traveling gait is not applicable to the driver of a fire engine, since the fire department is not intended as a purely ornamental adjunct, proficient only on parade. 60 Kansas, 481.

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well-informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by fathers and mothers.

Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently, pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.

Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic syrups and juices, but also to our original method of manufacture and as you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.—is printed on the front of every package. In order to get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine only. For sale by all reliable druggists.

Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit is made in the most hygienic and scientific food laboratory in the world. The wheat is spun into light shreds, containing thousands of open pores and is not crushed flat and dense as in the case of other foods. These pores absorb the digestive juices and provide far greater surface for their action than is given by any other food.

The following simple "course before coffee" is much in vogue with club men everywhere. The simplicity of preparation and the little cost, together with the delicious taste of the compote, makes this dessert in rare favor in the home.

Coming Attractions.

Well, that always welcome "old farmer," Uncle Josh Spruceby, is soon to be with us, and we are ready to give him and his clever associates a good solid welcome. This excellent comedy-drama is this season better than ever and will be given at popular prices. In fact this is the same show that in the East played to first class prices and we are to have it at 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents; how the managers can afford to give an entertainment like this for the price we don't know, but they do so, and that is enough for us to know. Everything this season is entirely new; new company, new scenery, new ideas, new comedy scenes and new sensations. The great saw-mill scene is said to be one of the most startling and realistic ever seen on any stage. It shows the great mill with all the machinery in motion, and a young girl tied to a log being carried to certain death. This is surely an exciting scene, with the wheels whirling, the pulleys straining and the steam escaping, while all the time you are seeing the girl going to her death—will no one stop that huge machinery? The beautiful scene that shows the farm at sunrise, is one of the prettiest now before the public. Then we have the old-time husking bee, with all the girls and boys on hand, and when a red ear is found, is there any fun, well watch for it. The comical Hay-seed Band will give a street parade at noon. Specialties are introduced in many of the scenes. This is a play that is of heart interest and at the same time full of genuine comedy and true to nature.

"A Prince of Tatters"
Al. H. Wilson appear this season in a new romantic play, written by Sidney R. Ellis, entitled "A Prince of Tatters" with Chas. H. Yale and Sidney R. Ellis will present their talented star for his third starring tour. It is cleverly constructed, clean and wholesome, telling a strong dramatic story, enlivened by refined comedy, brightened by the introduction of tuneful melodies and illustrated with beautiful and historically correct scenic effects.

The action of the play occurs in old New York in the year 1700, the locality being selected at Fort George, at that time one of the most picturesque and romantic spots on Manhattan Island. It is amid these romantic environments the story of the play is told.

Prince Hugo Von Reppert during childhood had been married to Lady Helen, the daughter of an English father and a German mother. Lord Edward Grey, Lady Helen's uncle and guardian, reared her after her mother's death and did all he could to make the child wife forget her husband.

The Prince had been exiled from Austria because he had killed in an affair of honor, one who had lightly spoken of Lady Helen's mother. Years later Prince Hugo, disguised as Colonel Schumon and dubbed "Prince of Tatters" by his marauding companions, meets Lady Helen on Long Island and rescues her from insult. Though he does not know her as his wife, he knows her to be beautiful. After overcoming much opposition, testing his character and devotion, Prince Hugo wins his wife the English Governor's favor and Lord Grey's consent. The awakened love of his wife and the effect of his sweet songs upon the governor make a happy ending of a brilliant play.

This appears to be the era of musical comedies and nothing seems to suit the public taste better than the evanescent, light and airy musical plays that are continually being evolved in New York, London and recently in Chicago. At Myers Grand, April 22, one of these pieces will be presented, an old favorite of last season, the operatic comedy, "The Chaparons." This is a play that has already met with remarkable success in this city and elsewhere. It made a very thorough tour of the country last season and appeared in every city of prominence from Omaha to New York, its season ending with a run of ten weeks at the New York theatre. In all this time the play has naturally been developed and improved until it is now said to be one of the brightest, quickest and most up-to-date musical farces of the period. The company is reported to be as large and capable as ever, and it is promised that the entire original production will be utilized during the engagement here. In the cast are many of the artists who appeared here last season and during the New York run of "The Chaparons." The leading parts are played by Walter Jones, Ed Redway, Edward Metcalf, Albert Farrington, George K. Henery, Thomas Burton, Eva Tanguay, May Boley, Genevieve Day, Jessica Duncan and Mae Stephens; hosts of pretty girls, adding to the attractiveness of the ensemble.

The coming engagement of Mr. James O'Neill at the Myers Grand, promises to be one of the great dramatic treats of the season. His new production of "The Manxman" is said to be a most elaborate one, and the play one of intense and absorbing interest, full of strong dramatic incidents.

No character which Mr. O'Neill has ever offered to lovers of good acting has been better suited to his great ability, and his many admirers will certainly class this performance with his acknowledged pre-eminence as Edmund Dantes. The company supporting his has been selected with the care and discretion usual with Liebler & Co., and the marked success of the performance is the natural result.

Arthur Stirling.

"The Journal of Arthur Stirling" describes the trials and tribulations of a man of education and culture who had high literary aspirations, his wanderings among publishers and magazine editors, the impressions he gained by the way, and his death by suicide. Of the tragedy the New York Times and the New York World, in June, 1902, gave full reports, with a letter addressed by Stirling to one of his friends just before he drowned himself in the North river.

On the receipt of the manuscript of this journal by the publishers, the impression made by it was so overpowering that it was finally decided to submit it to several literary men and women outside the office, in order to arrive at a consensus of opinion concerning what seemed to be a most remarkable literary production. Altogether, five different persons—four men and one woman—read it. The opinions they submitted were practically the same—that they had never before read a more remarkable document than this. Herewith are given a few excerpts from these opinions:

"This is one of the most interesting 'human documents' I have ever seen, with a strangely gripping ending. The man was a car-conductor, waiter and dish-washer in cheap restaurants, ever among the submerged, living on a few dollars a week while he wrote his drama. Starvation broke his health, and he died crying out for bare support for genius; that it may have leisure to give expression to its visions. He rails against society. The bitterness of his soul was deep. He evidently was one of those men who are out of place in a selfish world, who need shelter and sunlight to do their work."

"The story is told with a force and sweep of emotion, with a bitter cynicism, with a mad railing against the ills and trials of life, with now and then so lofty a faith that the very fundamental weakness and error of the young author are almost forgotten in the pity of it all. Every sane mind must condemn him for the fatal shrinking of the practical issues of life. Justification of his course is impossible; but the appeal to one's sympathy is genuine. And the literary merit is indisputable. The key is strained but there is style. There is also the shadow of genius on nearly everything, the undisciplined but powerful."

TREASURE FOR SOMEBODY

Season Ticket to the World's Fair to the Person Who Catches a Wild Balloon.

A curious feature of the fireworks program during the dedication ceremonies at the world's fair, St. Louis, will be the release of a large balloon made of the finest and lightest oil silk, and filled with the best quality of hydrogen. To this balloon will be attached, under proper safeguards to prevent injury, a notice directed to the finder that on return of the notice to the exposition officials a season pass to the fair will be given. It is estimated that the balloon under moderately favorable conditions will travel a thousand miles before returning to the earth. It is likely that much interest will be displayed on the night of the balloon's release as to the direction of the wind and that localities in the fortunate direction will be on the look-out for the treasure-laden messenger.

STATE SENATORS WERE IMPLICATED

IN ALUM BAKING POWDER DEAL

Tells State's Attorney Folk of the Transactions of the Alleged Boodle Ring and Then Leaves for Kansas City—To Testify at Jefferson City.

St. Louis, Mo., April 14.—Indictments in the State Legislature boodling cases are expected at any hour from either of the two grand juries working on the matter. Lieutenant Governor Lee in his statement of boodling operations in connection with the defeat of the bill to repeal the baking powder trust's alum bill, has directly charged five State Senators with being implicated in the alum deals. These Senators are James Orchard, Frank Costello, Charles A. Smith, Frank H. Farris and John F. Morton, all members of the criminal jurisprudence committee two years ago.

Expect a Confession.

Other developments before the St. Louis and Cole county grand juries have deeply implicated other State Senators who have been subpoenaed to testify before both inquisitorial bodies. It is stated by persons well informed as to the trend of the boodling investigation that the state has every reason to expect that some Senators will make a clean breast of the entire deal and thereby enable Attorney General Crow and Circuit Attorney Folk to secure indictments against a dozen or more Legislators for bribery and perjury.

Stone is Summoned.

Senator-Elect William J. Stone was subpoenaed to appear before the Cole county grand jury. He is summoned to appear before the local grand jury and he will almost certainly be a witness before one or the other of the two bodies investigating the same matter.

Senator Stone was served in St. Louis with the subpoena to appear before the St. Louis grand jury. He stated that he was perfectly willing to tell all he knew about the alum legislation.

Lee Will Testify.

Two other important grand jury witnesses expected to testify managed to avoid testifying. Lieutenant Governor Lee spent most of the day in Kansas City, but, over the long-distance telephone, he promised Attorney General Crow that he would appear before the grand jury. Lee is expected to complete his tale of boodling in connection with the alum bill and give the state the story of the entire transaction.

Attorney is Shy.

Col. W. H. Phelps, attorney for the Missouri Pacific railroad, was subpoenaed to appear before the St. Louis grand jury, but officers failed to get service and the attorney slipped out of town. It was learned that he was at Carthage, Mo., and was preparing to go to Asheville, S. C., where his daughter is ill. It is probable, however, that the Colonel will be served before he leaves the state. It is of first necessity that he appear before the grand jury, as Senator Farris charged that he received a $1,000 bill from Phelps for favors rendered to railroads Phelps represents.

Witnesses Are Gloomy.

Many witnesses were examined by the two grand juries. The two-score State Senators and Representatives who sat around the grand-jury rooms wore on their faces a look of impenetrable gloom.

Mr. Folk and Attorney General E. C. Crow, who is taking care of the Jefferson City end of the investigation, are working together, and the fact that the evidence given before two grand juries is available for comparison makes the situation serious for those who may not have told the truth.

More $1,000 Bills.

Information has reached Circuit Attorney Folk that Senator John P. Collins had displayed even $1,000 bills publicly soon after the adjournment of the Legislature. Attorney Folk at once ordered subpoenas issued for the informant and for others who saw the bills shown. Senator Collins will be summoned to account for the bills to the grand jury here.

Col. R. P. Williams, treasurer of the state of Missouri, informed the grand jury that no $1,000 bills had been changed or issued to any State Senators or Representatives by him.

New Features.

Two new features of the alleged boodling in the Legislature were brought to light by the grand jury. The slot-machine bill and two bills introduced in the interest of St. Louis county are now under investigation. In one instance, it is alleged, $500 was placed in the hands of a "distributor" to secure the passage of one of the St. Louis county bills. Another man is said to have attempted to distribute $5,000 among the legislators to secure the passage of the second county bill.

Run Over and Killed.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 14.—W. J. Gillespie, 35 years old, an employee of the Burlington road, was run over and instantly killed at Third and Patee streets. He is single and came here from Milwaukee, where his mother resides.

Veterinarian Loses Thumb.

Louisville, April 14.—Dr. F. T. Elsonman, veterinarian, was called to Churchill Downs to attend a horse of the Abe Furst stable. The animal was vicious and bit off his thumb.

HEAVY RAINS CAUSE A WRECK

Several Persons Are Badly Hurt Near Mansfield, O.

Mansfield, O., April 14.—The east-bound limited on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was wrecked at Dillon's crossing, a few miles north of this city. Heavy rains had undermined the tracks where there was a culvert. The injured are: Mrs. H. S. Straley and infant child of Fort Wayne, Mrs. Mary Stanley of Baltimore, Md.; Frank C. Miller en route from Emporia, Kan., to Pittsburg. Mrs. Stanley was ill in her berth when the cars left the track. She and her mother were thrown out, but not hurt fatally. The injured are at the emergency hospital in Mansfield. The engine and baggage car of the train got over the culvert safely, but the day coach and the Pullman were thrown on their sides. In the day coach were about twenty passengers, some of whom were thrown into the water.

IS EARLIEST RACE IN AMERICA

Scientist Finds Trace of People Living in Peru Before Trojan War.

San Francisco, Cal., April 14.—An American civilization far antedating the generally accepted limits of pre-Columbian peoples has been traced in Peru by Dr. Max Uhle, director of the anthropological excavations and explorations of the University of California in that country, where Inca traditions had led scientists to believe Peruvian civilization existed only a few centuries before the coming of the Spaniards. The work of Dr. Uhle has established the fact that a great civilization flourished 2,000 years earlier, at the least, and that a cultured race of higher development than the Incas was in existence before the Trojan war.

ATTACKS HIS WIFE AND SON

Resident of Watervliet, Mich., in Jail for Attempted Murder.

St. Joseph, Mich., April 14.—George Smith, a well-known resident of the village of Watervliet, was lodged in the county jail in this city, charged with attempted murder of his wife and 19-year-old son. Smith visited St. Joseph and returned home during the night angry over the failure of a business transaction. It is alleged he attempted to assault his wife with the hatchet. The son, to protect his mother, rushed upon his father and a terrible fight followed. A neighbor summoned the authorities, and Deputy Sheriff Guy placed Smith under arrest. Mrs. Smith is suffering from slight wounds about the head and face, but will recover.

FORMER SLAVE ON THE BENCH

Negro Is Elected to a Judgeship in Wisconsin District.

La Crosse, Wis., April 14.—J. C. Perkins, who represented the colored population of La Crosse county when President Roosevelt visited this city April 4, has been elected judge of the Shelby District of this county. He is the first colored judge of Wisconsin and perhaps the only ex-slave in the United States ever elected judge. He was born in 1840 and took his name from Col. Perkins of the rebel army, whose servant he was during part of the war.

MISS KELLOGG GUEST OF HONOR

The Monday Club Play the Hostess to Their Lecturer of the Winter.

The members of the Monday club entertained Miss Louise Phelps Kellogg with a supper in the parlors of the Congregational church last evening. After which Miss Kellogg gave the last of the series of lectures which she has been delivering to them this winter. The entertainment which the ladies offered Miss Kellogg was in an informal gathering together of the members of the club around the festive board, and its simplicity and social friendliness was one of its greatest charms. The table was spread with good things from home kitchens which were distributed by five young ladies from the Convent club.

Miss Kellogg has been entertaining the ladies of the Monday club during the past winter with talks every two weeks upon medieval history. The ladies have enjoyed these talks very much and regret that the season is at an end and that they are over. The subject last evening was "The Renaissance and the Reformation Period." Miss Kellogg began with Italy and went on down through England, Scotland and the other countries, tracing the effects of that period, the revolts that follow and their effects upon civilization. Describing and pointing out how these civil wars broadened the minds of men, equalizing them and advancing them along the lines of civilization. Eventually removing serfdom and placing men upon the wage-earning basis. The lecture was greatly enjoyed by all.

At the close of the talk Miss Anna Valentine, president of the club and on their behalf thanked Miss Kellogg for her exertions in their behalf, Miss Kellogg replying with a few well chosen remarks.
